PROFILE

Founder of Hello Tham, a boutique strategy consulting company. Available for short to medium term consulting engagements spanning strategic business change, business and operating model design, business process improvement, and technology strategy, architecture and solutions.

KEY ACHIEVEMENTS

- Enterprise and AI architecture leader — Currently defining the AI reference architecture, agentic AI guardrails and enterprise architecture metrics at Cochlear. Previously Head of Architecture at NAB and MLC.
- Flexible strategic change agent and thought leader — Led IT strategies and operating models for Transport for NSW, Transfield Services, ING, NAB and MLC, and founded Hello Tham in 2016 to deliver that work independently.
- Educator, innovator and author — Lecturer in Information Systems at Torrens University, twice awarded the Learning and Teaching Merit Award. Author of AI-dō, and developer of two native Apple applications released as free software.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Enterprise Architect (Consulting) 2025 – Present
Cochlear

- Enterprise architecture within Technology & Data Solutions, improving enterprise coherence across federated business domains while enabling faster, safer delivery through reusable architecture services, live architecture repositories, governed AI patterns and measurable architecture value.
- Developed enterprise architecture service models, reusable architecture deliverables and assurance practices across advisory, planning and solution architecture services.
- Designed the EA metrics framework and LeanIX-based executive reporting approach to measure architecture value, repository health, strategic alignment, technology risk, technical debt and governance effectiveness.

Learning Facilitator 2024 – Present
Torrens University Australia

- Lecturer in Information Systems in the School of Business, teaching undergraduate and masters students.
- Awarded the Learning and Teaching Merit Award twice, with perfect student satisfaction scores in end-of-trimester student evaluation surveys.

Principal Consultant and Director 2016 – Present
Hello Tham

- Founder and director of a boutique consultancy spanning business and IT strategy, enterprise architecture, operating models, strategic roadmaps, analytics and data science, digital products and content platforms.
- Author of AI-dō: The Way of AI, and developer of FinvestLens and HelloNotes, two native Apple applications published as free software.
- Successfully delivered multiple consulting engagements, including Cochlear, Transport for NSW and Broadspectrum.
